

Testimonials

"My energy and vitality levels have increased immensely. My body feels healthier, stronger and more energized. I would highly recommend this unit to anyone who is interested in increasing the body's own capacity to heal itself and to increase general feelings of well being."

Chris

"Initially skeptical, it only took a few bathing sessions to feel the difference. As a Specializing Acupuncturist, I am able to use muscle testing to establish exactly what the bath has done. Results were so astounding I actually questioned myself until I got used to the 'miracles' the unit produced. Some clients had a full course of 14 sessions over a 28 day period to find an improvement, others need only one or two sessions depending on the problem and the person."

Samantha McCann
Acupuncturist

"For the first time in my life, I am able to find such relief from my suffering."

Feldman's Practitioner and Natural Health Care Consultant

"I feel the key to health and balance, for me and my family, is the QEnergySpa BEFE. Every household should have one. Use and enjoy this helpful equipment. I am humbled grateful."

Daniel J. Corrigan
Lieutenant Colonel Military and
Special Forces United States Army - Retired

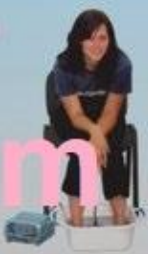

What makes our NEW QEnergySpa BEFE 6000 better?

The all NEW QEnergySpa BEFE Professional 6000 is a redesign from ground up with the latest in smoother energy flow and includes special in-house developed Q techniques.

The new technology will produce five times the possible energy to power modules, Orb and Arroy.

The QEnergySpa

patented
B.E.F.E. Technology
(Bio-Electric Field Enhancement)

No Pills - No Drugs - No Needles
No Pain - No Side Effects

Using water as a natural universal medium to realign, balance and enhance your bio-energy.

For more information, contact:

The QEnergySpa is manufactured in Australia by Future Life Science. Quality and technical improvements are overseen by Ian Knoll, Scientist, B.Eng. J.D. Eng. A.D.M.C. Engineer and CEO.

www.Q2Spa.com

Because the QEnergySpa enhances your body's own ability to correct and heal itself, it has a wide range of benefits

The QEnergySpa BEFE technology is based on the principle that all living matter contains a "biocharge" or bio-energy. This energy is what activates all the systems of the body to operate. The efficiency of operation of these systems within our bodies is determined by the energy level of our body. When the body has a high energy level, all the body's systems will operate efficiently as a collective whole, allowing the body to regenerate at its peak. However, much like a battery, our energy levels do not stay at a fixed level. Stress, toxins, illness, infections and trauma can deplete our body's function. This makes it harder for us to live at a high energy level.

The QEnergySpa with its patented BEFE technology, created to rebalance and amplify the bio-electric signature of your body, it is the only available energy device capable of creating the necessary complex interactions within the water. With continued use, the QEnergySpa increases the amount of available bio-energy that your body can hold. This amount of energy reserve will gradually increase with each cycle of sessions.

Often Imitated, Never Duplicated

The QEnergySpa is the first of its kind; developed by engineers in 1996. Because it demonstrates powerful healing capabilities, entrepreneurs have attempted to duplicate it by reverse engineering the technology. However, NO ONE has been able to figure out the complete technology...only part of it (and not the most effective part).

These copy cat foot baths claim that the color of the water and the particles in the water are evidence of detoxification. Some say you can tell what part of the body the toxins came from by the color. Some claim that debris floating in the water after a bath are heavy metals or yeasts. Please don't be suckered in by this FALSE INFORMATION and please be skeptical of people who would make up such things if they need a quick sale.

The benefits of the QEnergySpa come from the increased bio-available energy that gets absorbed into your body which your cells then use where needed for regeneration, to perform their functions better and yes, to detoxify harmful substances when the body has sufficient strength to do so. But, the detox occurs through your body's normal channels — kidneys and bowels primarily. Detoxification is not the only aspect of this spa — enhanced energy and improving your body's own ability to heal itself is the crux of this innovative technology.

Choose From

Professional Model 6000

This is our newest, most powerful and advanced QEnergySpa model to date. The ultimate in relaxing, energy revitalization, pain relief, necessary and overall health. You will soon feel better than you have in years. This is the best product of its kind anywhere in the world.

User Model 4000

The QEnergySpa 4000 is a step up in the Bio-Electric Field Enhancement, BEFE technology. Innovative features of the 4000 series include protected input and output circuits and manual output power adjustments. It is a reliable and easy to use spa for the home user.

Mini Model 2000

Compared to the models 6000 and 4000, this model may take a little longer to achieve the same results. It does not have the same filtering and components in the signature is not as clean as our other models. However, it is still better than any "copy-cat" footbaths made in Asia.